What's New in the?

Universal Jukebox is a software jukebox. It can play your favorite music (that comes in a different format than MP3) in several ways: *

In a normal jukebox mode, you can press the big play button to play music (the music plays only from your hard disk; I think it's smart, because you don't need to have a jukebox CD or a jukebox CD-RW for this mode) *

In a radio mode, you can play music by keypresses (like in your favourite radio program). *

In an internet mode, you can play music from the internet. Update: Universal Jukebox has been released with many new features: * It can search not only your hard disk, but also your CDs and jukeboxes (and internet too) * It can search for your music in an organized manner * You can click on the folder with the song you want to play * It can use it's own lightning fast database for keeping track of your tracks (and for playing them in the correct order) * It supports MP3, WMA and OGG music formats * It has been simplified in design, as an interface to a real jukebox

* It has many new features and a lot of bugfixes.
