How to help me? A: I tried again and found out something. I will write it here and hope someone can help me. This is the text of AM protocol. We'll start from here. Suppose you are chatting with some people on the network and want to know their location. To find out, you'll need to know the IP (Internet Protocol) addresses of the parties. That's not a big problem today with most ISPs offering Dynamic DNS services like No-IP and Bind DNS. But if you want, you may statically define IP addresses for the parties and use it in your messages so that your friends don't have to update themselves. Your plan is to buy a local IP from the ISP and use it for a private LAN (local area network), where you will host the AM Server. First prepare the packages: IMAGE: Linux COPY OF AM TEXT Read AM text file, source the AM packages. You'll need the following: amrec.txt amrec.xml amrec-proto.txt amserver.conf The AM text is at: "use strict"; describe("lcdup", function() { var f; var instance; var tests = [['for (n in g){ f = n;}', 'for (n in g){ f = Number(n);}', [' for (n in g){ f = g[n];}', 'for (n in g){ f = g[Number(n);}'], [' for (n in g){ f = g[n] || n; }', 'for (n in g){ f = g[Number(n) || n]; }'], ['a = (function(){ return f; })()];', ']
