His speech, entitled "Capitalism: Disrupted!" was entitled "Disrupted" and covered a lot of topics. Some excerpts from it: °», See the failure of capitalism We're living in the richest time in the history of the planet. Wealth that used to belong to a few, has now become a global movement. Who's to blame for this inequitable distribution? The system. Capitalism, the system by which we allocate and distribute resources, has finally caught up with the desires of the people. It's only been happening for a hundred years and in that time it's moved from an aristocracy to a democracy. The thing that you, dear audience, are not aware of is that capitalism has evolved into a system that has the power to dissolve the relationship between the human species and the earth. The tools of this evolution include technology, machines and computerization, which has eroded the job security of most people and the vast majority of enterprises. The best paid, the most dangerous and the most respected occupations in the world are those occupations which require a critical and non-linear mind. The jobs that most people are working today are likely to be gone in the next generation. It's the most challenging work, but it's also the most valueless and inconvenient. The way in which these jobs get taken over is simple, capitalism creates a path for everyone to follow. Wealth is unevenly distributed. Therefore, different people follow different paths. What](#)

Description of the Related Art As the development of highly-integrated semiconductor devices increases the size of the semiconductor device, a process window for fabricating a semiconductor device becomes narrower. Accordingly, a repair process using a laser to recover a crystalline defect is performed at a high density on a wafer. However, the repair process using a laser cannot repair all of the crystalline defects. Hacker News
