MS PowerPoint 2007 Ribbon to Old Classic Menu Toolbar Interface is a tiny utility that allows that allows you to change the default PowerPoint 2007 menu layout with the one in PowerPoint 2003. MS PowerPoint 2007 Ribbon to Old Classic Menu Toolbar Interface has been reported as very stable and simple to use. This is the ideal utilities for all MS PowerPoint 2007 users who want to change the classic menu layout of MS PowerPoint 2007 to the old ones. MS PowerPoint 2007 Ribbon to Old Classic Menu Toolbar Interface SoftwareA high-capacity microfluidic comb-drive biofuel cell. A novel microfluidic comb-drive biofuel cell has been fabricated and experimentally characterized. The battery-type device consists of a two-electrode module, which is sandwiched between two parallel microstructured patterns of lateral comb-shaped channels to form a comb-drive structure. Each channel consists of a pair of finger-shaped electrodes. On applying a difference of potential between the two electrodes, the electric field is enforced to the electrode, which has shorter distance from the ground. The cells were immersed in a glucose/O<sub>2</sub> redox solution to create an anodic flow. As the comb electrode was fabricated in the form of a tetrapod structure, the flow profile of the solution at the comb electrode became laminar as it was generated by the stirring effect at the intersections of two electrodes, increasing the mass transport area. The glucose oxidation and oxygen reduction at the electrodes were electrochemically characterized, and they exhibited good reversibility and high efficiency. The experimental results were in good agreement with the theoretical predictions, and the maximum power density of the battery-type device was 2.2 mW cm<sup>(-2)</sup>. A new European Commission plan to create a "green tax" for "polluting countries" that don't take adequate action to curb global warming was announced Tuesday. The "polluter pays" plan will apparently apply to countries where emissions exceed their 2020 renewable energy target. Those countries will then have to pay the costs of making up the gap by investing in global warming cuts in industries such as steel and cement. "Where a country wants to build infrastructure projects to cut emissions or transitions to other energy mixes, it has to be done within a framework that provides a level playing field between countries with low and high emissions," European Commission Vice President Andrus Ansip told reporters in Brussels. "The entire industrial base should pay," he continued.
